A REAL DAUGHTER (Savant 2017) by Lynne McKelvey

Fiction: Psychological, Horror

316 pp. - 5.25" x 8" Softcover

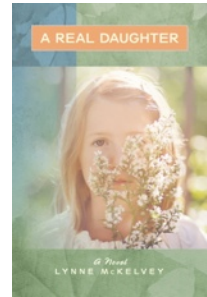

ISBN 978-0-9972472-5-1

When her infant daughter Sarah unexpectedly dies, Claire, feeling blame, reinvents herself as a landscape gardener in Los Angeles. Meanwhile, Claire imagines Sarah still alive, marking her birthdays, Christmas, first day of school—as if Sarah never died. Remarrying, Claire acquires a step-daughter, eight-year-old Mandy—about the age Sarah would be had she lived. Part vamp, part jealous, bossy and troubled, Mandy is nothing like Sarah, who still lives on in Claire's imagination. As Claire lives two lives—one real, one imagined—the clash between the two daughters threatens to destroy her, releasing the demons she has managed, so far, to hold at bay. As the story hurtles towards its harrowing conclusion, Claire must choose between her new life and her haunted past.

ALL THINGS AWAIT (2016) by Seth Clabough

Fiction: Drama, Psychological, Science Fiction, Satire

372 pp. - 6" x 9" Softcover

ISBN 978-0-9915622-7-5

Lightly, an impossibly good-looking star quarterback from an elite Virginia college, drags along an unlikely sidekick—the immensely unpopular and overweight Santana Montana—to a remote Costa Rican fishing village in search of a unifying vision—a secret location where he might glimpse the parallel universes predicted by quantum physics. Informed by quantum theory and driven by the desire to outrun the dark grip of family trauma, Lightly sets out on an impromptu picaresque adventure that is at once absurd and poignant.

FALLING BUT FULFILLED: Reflections on Multiple Intelligences (Savant 2010) by Zachary M. Oliver

Non-Fiction: Education, Intelligences

200 pp. 6" x 9" Softcover - ISBN 978-0-9845552-7-7

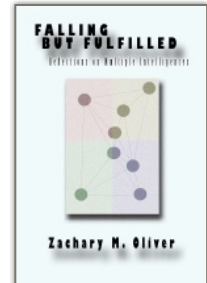

NEUROBIOLOGICAL LEARNING SOCIETY CHOICE AWARD

Education reform has become one of the most hotly contested topics in America today. Rather than focus on test scores, federal or private funds, or political conflicts, Dr. Zachary Oliver has fashioned a unique memoir that takes a powerful learning theory, Multiple Intelligences (MI) Theory, and demonstrates, through the story of his life, from his childhood to his years as an educator, the ways in which education touches nearly every activity of our lives. In Falling but Fulfilled, Dr. Oliver demonstrates how learning is an integral part of life, not just a statistic or test score, that is felt and obtained through reflection on the vast array of experiences that constitute our lives.

ILLEGAL (Aignos 2018) by E. M. Duesel

Fiction: Suspense, Crime, Mexican-American Border Action & Adventure - 288 pp. - 6" x 9" Softcover

ISBN 978-0-9970020-9-6

While kidnapped in Laredo, Texas, by a hate group, 12-year-old Rush Peña witnesses the murder of three immigrant children before escaping with his life. His trial testimony brings the murderers to justice, but not without making Rush and his family the target of racist vigilantes. Kidnapping, murder, and rescues abound. The Peña family and their friends are forced to stop the human trafficking, drug cartels and general hate groups waging war against them. The struggle continues when Rush attends an Eastern Seaboard college and discovers that cultural hatred isn't limited to the Border States.

IN SEARCH OF SOMATIC THERAPY (Savant 2017) by Setsuko Tsuchiya
 Non-fiction: Alt/Integrative Medicine, Dance, Massage, Somatic Therapy
 256 pp. 6" x 9" Softcover
 ISBN 978-0-9972472-3-7

What is somatic therapy? Is it about somatic therapy (psychological "talk therapy" that surrounds somatic stimulation) or somatic therapy (the somatic stimulation itself)? Do the different forms of somatic experience, e.g. massage, dance, singing, acupuncture, acupressure and biofeedback have anything in common other than talking about the experience? The author, a registered Hawaii massage therapist who comes from Japan, documents her journey in search of somatic therapy and reports the surprising answers that reveal themselves along the way.

Peter dreams of life with a camera, but his father doubts he has the toughness required to be a professional photographer, and pushes him instead into a more sensible profession: international banking. Twenty-five years later, dramatic events lead Peter to sacrifice his stable career and family for a photographer's life - in New York. A vicious attack, however, disrupts his first success, leaving him to wonder how he will ever reconcile with a stubborn father with whom he's never seen eye-to-eye.

GREAT NORTHWEST BOOK FESTIVAL AWARD

A love-song for a tumultuous time in India, IN THE HIMALAYAN NIGHTS, captures eighteen days and evenings in 1977, at a moment when India teetered on the edge of what it would become as it reincarnated for a postmodern, hyper-real world. Struggling with questions about the nature of morality, the authenticity of folk heroes, and the reality of ritual possession, an Indian-American anthropologist, his wife, and his graduate students witness a performance of the ancient Bhagavad Gita. Whether because of the hypnotic drumming or the inspired analysis emerging from the group and their hosts, each become entangled in what can only be appropriately called their own dharmic war.

ISLAND WILDLIFE: Exiles, Expats and Exotic Others (Aignos 2018) by Robert Friedman

Fiction: Psychological, Socioeconomic- 290 pp. 5.25" x 8" Softcover

ISBN 978-0-9970020-7-2

The book is composed of interconnected stories about denizens of a beachfront guesthouse in Puerto Rico, circa 1987. The mostly off-beat characters who pass through the doors of the Solimar Guesthouse are trying to straighten out off-kilter lives; each has a unique story to tell about love, sexuality, survival. Island Wildlife looks with a canny, darkly humorous eye at the struggling humanity of its characters, while also exploring the Puerto-Rico/U.S. relationship, Cuban exile politics, and how the personal and political interrelate.

Texas State Senator John Doe, an amnesia victim from an accident twenty years earlier, is being blackmailed by the Mob for a crime of which he has no memory. The accusation? ...The cold-blooded execution of two policemen. In a last ditch effort to save his political career, Doe hires a Dallas private investigator, Harry Stumbaugh, to dig into his past for the truth. Unfortunately, as Stumbaugh's investigation into the senator's past progresses, every witness he interviews ends up dead. With each murder, the detective steps ever closer to answer the question on everyone's mind: Is Senator John Doe a victim or a serial killer protecting his future political legacy?

NUNO (Aignos 2014) by Carlos Aleman

Fiction: Fantasy, Metaphysical, Life Spiritual Journey

224 pp. - 6" x 9" Softcover - ISBN 978-0-9904322-4-1

Born as he was, the son of a suicidal policeman and a self-destructive woman of ill-repute, Nuno arrived in the world with a capable heart and a mind ready to explore the mysteries of life. Nuno is evidence that the human experience can never be untangled from the unfurling of history, that we are all creatures of our time even though time can never define us. Though our quarreling natures visit travesties upon the world, we also accept, as Nuno does, that our capacity to connect will ripple outward enriching all who would recognize the infinite within an action. In the juxtaposition of our ferocious capacity for violence and the limitless potential of our capacity for love, Nuno embodies the paradox of the human experience, that our momentary existence is an artifact of eternity. Through Nuno -in his discovery of love and through his crucible as a political prisoner in communist Cuba- we, the lucky readers who have discovered this tale, are given a chronicle of one man's discovery of both the timeliness and timelessness of the human experience and the healing balm love provides even in the darkest crises of the soul. Book 1 of the series. Book 1 of 3 in the Diego series.

Brian Braun, a local Dallas photographer, believes he's hit Pulitzer pay-dirt when he receives an unusual call for an extraordinary photo shoot from a U.S. Senator. Afterward, however, Braun comes to realize his photographs have done more than record history. He's recorded one of the greatest hoaxes and politically devastating scandals that breeches beyond the boundaries of Watergate. The hoax is perpetrated on the American people by a private security firm that specializes in high profile political murder. Relying on his own streetwise wits, Braun has less than forty-eight hours to stay a step ahead of a highly motivated death squad and keep from being branded by history as the next Lee Harvey Oswald.

The works in this book were completed between 2005 and 2008. In creating the book, I was myself pleasantly surprised that while the foci, presentations and media changed over time, my interest in portraying people in relation to today's big-city world didn't. By the way, the title, "Interzone," was inspired by a rock band named Joy Division, whose music inspired me to capture the infinite faces of life during one's journey from the darkness and coldness of beginning.

"We chose the place for its neutrality. The Brits opted for its inaccessibility and the Israelis agreed because of its impregnability," Agent Joseph Falk's voice crackled in the earphones of fellow Agent Susan Koski as she swept her binoculars across the vastness of the dark green sea below to focus on the jagged black rock that comprised the home of Flangenan Lighthouse. A lighthouse clinging tenaciously to the rocky outcroppings three miles west of Tiree Island for over one hundred years, once crisp and white, its conical structure embedded into the northernmost tip of land, was now weather-worn to a splotchy grey. Then she spied a concrete bunker recently added to the west curve of the lighthouse, then yet another built into the east face of the rock cliff... In their sixth adventure, Koski and Falk face what may be one of their most deadly assignments yet: Operation Solar Triangle.

UNIVERSITY AND KING (Aignos 2014) by Jeffrey Ryan Long

Fiction: General - 198 pp - 6" x 9" Softcover Trade Book

ISBN 978-0-9895191-5-1

This little book is a jewel. Contained in these covers are the stories of real people living their strange and always entertaining little lives. Sometimes, the characters stumble around trapped in their own absurdities. Sometimes, the characters have a flash, a moment of awareness, of self-discovery -and, to their credit- not the annoying self-congratulatory chicken soup kind of clarity. No, these misadventures hit close to home and in places we drive past, sit at the light at, wait for the bus at, places which blur past at the speed of a postmodern life in the shadow of Diamond Head.
